GRENADIANS INSPECT PINE BLUFF AIRPORT

Body of Citizens Are Spending Today in Arkansas City Learning Details of Building Airport—Plan One for Grenada—Aviation Fast Coming to Fore and Progressive Communities Should Provide Facilities.

A group of Grenada county citizens, consisting of the five members of the board of supervisors, Kemp Mattingly, J. H. James, W. V. Horton, B. W. Smith and W. W. Whitaker, and J. T. Thomas, B. J. Anderson, R. W. Jones and G. M. Lawrence expect to leave early this morning for Pine Bluff, Ark. to spend the day there inspecting Pine Bluff's airport. Several others will accompany them. They should reach Pine Bluff about noon and will spend several hours at the flying field, leaving for the return home late in the afternoon.

It is purposed to ascertain something of the cost of establishing and maintaining an airport and just what is necessary in building one. When these citizens return with the facts they will be presented to Grenada county people and the advisability of building an airport here will be discussed from every angle.

Aviation is fast coming to the front as one of the great things in the progress of this fast-moving age. The government is almost daily inaugurating new air mail routes, commercial companies are being organized all over the country for the transportation of passengers by airplane and the country as a whole is fast becoming "air-minded".

Many predict that in another decade flying will be almost as thoroughly established as automobiling is today. Citizens of many Mississippi communities are taking flying lessons and in Grenada at an early date several expect to secure their pilot's license. Therefore, it is safe to assert that ere long the town or city without a landing field will be a back number in the march of progress.

An airport here will give Grenada an entering wedge with which to ask that the government place the city on an air mail route. It will also mean that it will become a permanent landing place for passenger planes and that the passenger companies will build and maintain their own hangars and will have their own mechanics here to service their planes.

Those who know something about airports claim that they are not only self-sustaining but that they pay good financial returns. It is said that just as soon as one is definitely located, many of the oil companies take leases at once so that they may put up stations to service the planes and that a definite charge is made for the use of the airport for landing and housing purposes.

Airplanes have been making landings in Grenada for some years. They have been using the fairgrounds a part of the time and have also made use of the W. B. Hoffa field just south of town and have made landings on Glenwild Plantation. The owners of these places have not endeavored to commercialize their properties but have gladly consented for planes to use them.

The Sentinel feels sure that these men who are spending today in Pine Bluff will return with much information of value and that Grenada will be easy to convince that it is to the town's interest to build an airport as soon as possible.

Thousands of dollars worth of men's suits, overcoats, hats and furnishings and ladies' shoes, hosiery and underwear will be thrown on the market are greatly reduced prices. It is the policy of The Leader and has been for years to never carry over from one season to another style merchandise and to clear this stock away, these bargains have been made.

Study this advertisement carefully and consider the remarkable savings offered you.

INFANT BOY DIES

The Christmas season was made sad for Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hall when their three-months' old son, Wiley Lamar, Jr. was taken from them on Saturday, Dec. 22. The little body was interred in Odd Fellows Cemetery Sunday afternoon after funeral services conducted by Rev. R. L. McLeod, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

The grief-stricken parents should take consolation in the words of Him whose birthday was observed Dec. 25th when he said "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not."

The Sentinel extends its deepest sympathy.

Sutton E. Griggs Addresses Negroes

On Tuesday evening, Dec. 18th, at 7:30 it was heralded that Rev. Sutton E. Griggs, of Memphis, Tenn., faced a very large and appreciative audience at the court house in this city, composed of some the foremost citizens of this and adjoining counties, Yalobusha, Montgomery and some from Carroll county. It was a move sponsored by the Progressive Civic League of this city. In the audience was a sprinkling of some of our leading white citizens. Having become interested in the press news of the aggressive spirit of Rev. Griggs, his interest, activity, and fund of information regarding environments and conditions of the race prompted us to invite him here to address our group. He was delighted to accept the invitation because he was well acquainted with the why and wherefore of many things that, as a rule, our people do not stop to investigate. To his credit be it known, he measured up fully to the occasion, in plain practical information and followed it up with sound advice. Many facts presented in plain English were listened to with rapt attention. We realize the possibility of improving our conditions through Rev. Griggs' advice and leadership. Hon. W. M. Dubard (white) of this city, a gentleman interested in negro improvement, was present and upon the unanimous solicitation made in reply a hearty approval of all that was said. Prof. Rogers, president of the Civic League, with the assistance of Rev. A. Nabors, master of ceremonies, had a splendid preliminary program, one of which consisted of 40 or more voices who sang several negro spirituals. A contribution of nearly $60.00 was given by the audience. This fund is being collected to pay on the purchase of a lot to be used as a playground for our school.

Whlle in the city Mr. James Weathers was host to Dr. S. E. Griggs. A noon day luncheon was served in his honor. James never does things in a half-hearted way. He has our confidence as a worthy citizen and reflects completions in any obligation.

Community Christmas Tree

Santa Claus visited the 6 or 7 hundred children of this community last Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the auditorium of the colored school. At that early hour the building was packed with expectant humanity. A short program was the introduction to the occasion. Prof. Rogers presented Mr. John Rundle, superintendent of city schools, who made a few pointed remarks concerning the Christmas season. Presents were called off and each child went away as happy as a lark. The community Christmas tree has grown to be a fixture among our group. When we think of its origination and kind thought accompanying it we exclaim how wonderful; how comforting. Life would grow burdensome and uninviting but for some one who occasionally gets a vision and becomes a source of inspiration to others. Many hearts are gladdened and many burdens grow lighter as we stand in amazement and contemplation.

Mrs. Lizzie Terry, one of our old and much respected citizens, remains critically ill. From time to time there is an occasional rallying. It is hoped that she may yet be restored to health.

Misses Cotton, Gray, Jones, Ammons and Parker, teachers in our city school, left for their homes to spend Christmas with relatives and friends. We hope they are enjoying themselves.

During the Yuletide season the manifest interest our white friends have expressed in words and deeds their desire that there be no suffering in the community among our people, is remarkable. Through their investigation and activity many have had cause to rejoice because of the sunshine brought to their door. In some instances their hospitality is an unuttered rebuke to our negligence. God's poor are to be cared for without regard to social or religious lines and for the sake of suffering humanity we are called to do our duty.

Emancipation Celebration

On Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the colored high school auditorium the faculty of our city school will entertain the public with a program pertaining to our freedom which proclamation was issued by President Abraham Lincoln, Jan. 1, 1863. Sixty-five years is long or short as you choose depending upon the viewpoint. An occasion of this kind should inspire our hearts to the contribution of approval and attendance. There are but few of us here now that know by actual experience the trying ordeals of slavery. The Confederate Veterans, that are the products of antebellum times meet annually out of respect for a cause they thought just and right. There would be a want of appreciation upon our part if we did not on the first day of January of each year manifest our joy and gratitude to God for the many blessings that have come to us through and by that great document—the Emancipation. It must be kept before our children as a matter of history and as we pass from decade to decade be able to measure the milestones we have passed and how far we have advanced socially, morally, financially, religiously. Let us attend and hear of our forefathers.

FOUR WHITE MEN JAILED ON CHARGE OF ROBBERY

Harvey Schmitz, N. B. Paxton, Lloyd Goad and Lloyd Frost, white men, are to face Mayor W. S. P. Doty in the city court today at 11 a. m. on the charge of burglarizing the store formerly owned and operated by E. O. Pettigrew in the yard of the Boone Cooperage Co. just south of the Yalbusha river bridge. City Marshal J. D. Crenshaw, who worked up most of the evidence against the four men, says that all have admitted their guilt. The mayor can do nothing except discharge the men or hold them for action of the grand jury, according to the evidence submitted.

Schmitz has been living in Grenada for some years. The other three men are strangers here. According to officers, both Schmitz and Paxton have served time in the penitentiary.

The store that was burglarized has not been open for business for some time. The stock of goods was recently sold under the hammer to John T. Keeton, Grenada merchant. Several raids were made on the stock and a total amount of approximately $250 was stolen. $150 worth of merchndise has been recovered, part of it being found in Schmitz's house, some in Paxton's house, some in a vacant house in the Newsom quarters in the western part of town and the remainder was located in Coffeeville and Clarksdale. The merchandise has been identified as part of that taken from the store. Entrance to the store was first made through a window which was pried open and after the first raid on the stock, the window was fixed in some manner so that those in the know might easily enter.

After working for some time on several slender clues, two of the men were arrested last Friday by Deputy Sheriff T. E. Tribble and the other two were arrested Sunday by Marshal Crenshaw.

"RIO RITA" FASCINATES

When Guy Bolton and Fred Thompson were commissioned to write the book for "Rio Rita", which comes to the Greenwood Theatre, Greenwood, Miss., Jan. 4th, it was a pretty well accepted fact that an interesting story would be the result, for they took as their locale the borderland of Texas along the Rio Grande, and the northern part of Mexico. In this setting they created a story of intense romance, intrigue and unexpected surprises, enlivened by racy and, oftentimes, highly original comedy, according to all reports. A Ranger who has been sent across the border to apprehend a brigand known as "The Kinkejou", whose identity is unknown is in love with Rita. Suspicion falls upon Rita's brother. One General Esteban, a Mexican Don Juan, is madly in love with Rita and vainly endeavors to hasten their marriage. Rita, hurt and defiant at the Ranger's determination to arrest her brother, turns upon him and all but falls into the arms of Esteban. The scene shifts to an underground retreat of thieves and smugglers and then to a floating cabaret on the Rio Grande at night time, where the exciting and unexpected climax is enacted, and later to the home of the Ranger, where true love finds at last its reward.

Harry Tierney and Joseph McCarthy, composers of a very long and successful list of Broadway musical comedy hits, have written for "Rio Rita" perhaps the finest songs of their careers to date. To enumerate the many melodious and tingling dance and song hits of "Rio Rita" would require more space than is here available, but it is pertinent to mention such outstanding numbers as "Following the Sun Around", "Rio Rita", "March of the Texas Rangers", the seductive "When You're in Love You'll Waltz", "The Jumping Bean", "The Moonlight Ballet", "Sweethearts", "Are You There?", "I Can Speak Espagnol", and many more of equal beauty and popular appeal.

NO LECTURE ON HOLY LANDS IN THIS ISSUE OF SENTINEL

Since the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Rev. R. L. McLeod, Jr., did not deliver a lecture Sunday evening on his tour of the holy lands in 1924, the evening service being cancelled, the lecture does not appear in this week's Sentinel. The Sentinel is not advised whether or not he will resume his lectures next Sunday evening but should he do so it will appear in the next issue of this paper.

Mr. Joe G. Acee is at home from Cullman, Alabama, where he is professor of science and coach. He is spending the Yuletide holidays with his mother, Mrs. J. L. Acee, on Third Street.

Real Christmas Spirit Prevailed In Grenada

Many Homes Gladdened by Coming of Loved Ones. Worship at All Saints—Poor Remembered.

Christmas, 1928, is over. Grenada merchants did well in a business way in the Christmas trade. The merchants had about all they could attend to.

There were many homecomings. Many hearts were made glad by the coming of father and mother for a visit and for the return to the parental roof of sons and daughters and for the grandchildren. Good dinners were had. The children had a real Christmas time and they carried themselves well.

There was the usual Christmas worship at All Saints Episcopal church that was attended by a number from other congregations. The Sentinel thinks sometimes that it would be well for the membership of other churches to find a time during Christmas to dwell reverently at least for a little while on the significance of Christmas day.

The poor were remembered, maybe not all of them, nevertheless this paper feels sure that there was more thought given to the needs of those who must rely upon others for daily necessities than ever before. This was good. Through the generous spirit of J. T. Thomas, aided by the community in general, a Christmas tree was provided for the negro children of the town who would have been almost wholly without Christmas remembrances. This was begun several years ago at the instance of Mr. Thomas and has been kept up since.

The flu is disturbing many families in Grenada, and there were a number stricken with it who could not share in the Christmas festivities, but thus far the cases appear to be of a mild type and have readily yielded to treatment.

As the children who came home and others make ready to go back to their respective places of employment, parents begin to feel lonesome and are wishing that it could be found best that they stay where they could see them even more often.

SIXTEEN IN JAIL

Ten of Prisoners in Grenada Bastile Are White.

Deputy sheriff and jailer, Tribble, states that there are sixteen prisoners in the county jail awaiting action by the courts, and that ten of these are white prisoners. The proportion does not usually run this way. The negroes seem to be setting an example that the whites who are criminally inclined might think over. It is stated that nearly all the white prisoners hail from beyond the confines of Grenada county.

EX-SOLDIER DIES

Edwin Leverette, 37, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Leverette, of Elliott, died early Tuesday morning, Dec. 25, in the government hospital at Dawson Springs, Ky. where he had been for some time receiving treatment for tuberculosis contracted while he was in the service of his country during the World War. His remains reached Grenada on the fast train Wednesday morning and were interred at the Providence burying ground Wednesday noon, the services being conducted by Dr. W. E. Farr, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Grenada.

Mr. Leverette was a man who was highly esteemed by those who knew him. He had that happy faculty of speedily making friends of those he met and the longer they knew him, the faster were the ties of friendship cemented. Before entering the service, he was engaged in business in the delta and was regarded as being unusually successful.

The Sentinel extends its sympathy to his sorrowing parents and other loved ones.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank our many friends for the kind words of sympathy, thoughtful deeds, and the beautiful florals, in our great sorrow. We want to thank Dr. Brown for his watchful care of our baby, and his untiring efforts in his behalf. To know that our friends share our sorrow is a great solace to us, and we pray God's richest blessings on each of you.

MR. AND MRS. W. L. HALL,
MARY DOUGLAS HALL.

MEN'S CLASS TO MEET IN MASONIC TEMPLE

On account of improvements under way in the Presbyterian Church building, the Men's Sunday School class will meet in the Masonic Temple for the next week or two.

On next Sunday Mr. Cowles Horton will lecture, the class on the life of Paul. It will be a real treat and visitors are invited to share it.

A burglar who entered the home of C. V. Graham in Philadelphia took no loot, but left a note saying he enjoyed reading the Bible.

MISS CORA THOMAS DIED CHRISTMAS EVE NIGHT

Miss Cora Thomas died Christmas Eve nigh' at the home of her niece, Mrs. Guy Thomas, at Tie Plant, with whom she had been making her home for some time. She took the flu which developed into something more serious. The funeral services were conducted Christmas afternoon at Vaiden her old home, by Revs. W. E. Farr and G. T. Sledge.

Miss Thomas was 59 years of age. She came to Grenada some twenty years or more ago with her brothers, W. C. and George Thomas, both of whom have passed to their reward. She was a kind, gracious character and was universally esteemed for her many generous and noble impulses. She was unusually fleshy, weighing perhaps near 300 pounds and her size was always more or less an embarrassment to her and for this reason she was rarely seen upon the streets or in public gatherings. She was a Baptist in belief but largely for the reasons just above stated, had never united with the church. She is survived by one brother, Carson Thomas, at Vaiden, besides numerous other relatives.

To those who mourn The Sentinel extends sincere sympathy.

THREE DAYS MORE LEFT TO BUY LICENSE TAGS

The Sentinel would advise those in Grenada county who have so far failed to buy their 1929 tags for their automobiles to do so at once as there are only three more days left in which they may do so without paying the 100% damages. The law provides that all tags must be bought during the month of December for the year to follow and those who do not have their 1929 tags on their car before the first of January are liable for damages. The sheriff has no option in the matter. He must, under his oath, collect the penalty and those who are made to pay it cannot place the blame on him.

Friday, Saturday and Monday are the three days left. Your tag bought on any of these three days will save you from paying double. Car owners should take due notice thereof and govern themselves accordingly.

ONLY 4 PAGES THIS WEEK

In view of the fact that The Sentinel force took a holiday the first two days of this week, the paper is being issued this week in only four pages, just half its regular size. It is seldom that newspaper workers get to take a holiday and The Sentinel feels sure that its readers will overlook the paucity of news for this once.

Cone-Levy Announcement.

"The following announcement will appear in the Greensboro, N. C., paper today:

"'Mr. and Mrs. Clarence N. Cone, of Greensboro, North Carolina, announce the engagement of their daughter, Isabel, to Mr. Samuel M. Levy, of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Levy, Henderson, Ky. The wedding is to take place in April.'

"The above announcement will be read with interest and pleasure by a wide circle of friends of Mr. Samuel M. Levy in this city, who have watched with interest and pleasure his success in business both here and in New York. He is a graduate of the B. M. T. H. S. with high honors. He later graduated from the University of Chicago and then went to New York. He is now with one of the largest advertising companies in this country, the H. K. McCann Company."

The above is taken from a recent issue of a Henderson, Ky. newspaper and is of especial interest to Grenadians for the reason that Mrs. Levy, who was formerly Miss Hattie Wile, resided here. Those who remember her are always glad to have some news of her and the announcement of her son's engagement will bring many recollections to her old friends still living here.

Austin-Rose.

Mrs. W. T. Rose, of Grenada, Miss., announces the marriage of her daughter, Ola Lee, to Mr. Cleveland Edwin Austin, of Winona, Miss., the wedding having taken place on Saturday, Dec. 15.

The bride is one of Grenada's many attractive young women. Her family is well-known and greatly esteemed over the county. That she will meet well her added obligations, this paper feels sure and her husband should be congratulated on having won her for his very own.

The couple will make their home in Winona where Mr. Austin is a popular young business man.

The Sentinel extends its best wishes.

These two ladies are teachers in the school for adult blind located at Meridian. By legislative enactment at the 1928 session, this school was located in Lauderdale county through the efforts of the Lions Club of Meridian. Both Miss Baker and Miss Mains are doing splendid work in the institution.

Among the many homes in Grenada made happy and glad for the Christmas because of the return of loved ones, was that of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lawrence who had all their children and two grandchildren with them. They are: Misses Bernice and Heard, and Mr. and Mrs. Ellett Lawrence and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Lawrence and baby daughter, Betty Sue, Rice Lawrence, of Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Lawrence and Mister Ellett, of Grenada. ANNUAL FAIR HERE MAY BE ABANDONED

Officials Disheartened over Lack of Cooperation of Grenada Business Interests. 1928 Fair Cleared $1000 but Deficit of $2000 Still Remains—Resignations of Various Officers Accepted Thursday.

Unless the business interests of Grenada wake up, Grenada will have no fair in 1929. At a meeting of the fair officials held Thursday morning all officers present tendered their resignations which were accepted. John Borden, president of the association, was not present.

Reports from the secretary and treasurer were presented showing that there is now a deficit of little more than $2000 remaining, notwithstanding the fact that the 1928 fair showed a profit of something more than $1000.

In accepting the resignation of S. M. Cain, secretary for ten years or more, and H. J. Ray, treasurer for 20 years, the directors voted unanimously to commend them for their unceasing and untiring efforts in the years they have served in their official capacities in making of the annual fair what it has been. Both Mr. Cain and Mr. Ray have given unstintingly of their time to the work and they are deserving of the highest praise. The Grenada fair has come to be regarded all over the country as one of the outstanding expositions of the year. Its fame has made Grenada and this section of north Mississippi known everywhere and the value of the advertising secured through staging such fairs as have been held here cannot be measured in dollars and cents. For years to come, Grenada and surrounding country will continue to reap the benefits of the fairs had here in years gone by.

At the meeting Thursday morning an onlooker could sense that the officials were disheartened and discouraged at the lack of cooperation on the part of Grenada business men, particularly. They have seemed, a great many of them, to take no interest whatever in the fair, many not even attending it at any time. The officers who have had to do with the management of the event have received very little assistance from the community as a whole. They have had to carry the whole burden upon their shoulders and both abuse and criticism have been heaped upon them from time to time for various features of the fair that did not appeal to the disgruntled spectator. But they have plodded on and have given the community each year a fair as good as could be found anywhere. Features have been had in Grenada that larger fairs did not offer and attractions that would do great credit to communities ten times as large as Grenada have been staged here.

The resignation of the officers places the property in the hands of the trustees of the fair association and it places the proposition of whether or not Grenada is to continue its annual fair squarely up to the business interests of the town. What they are going to do about it remains to be seen. Right now Grenada is making efforts—if only in a feeble sort of way—to induce factories to locate here; for two years the doctrine of dairying and diversified farming has been preached; steps toward building an airport, are being made and, if in the face of these efforts, the fair is abandoned, it will most certainly place a black mark against Grenada, especially in the eyes of the outside world.

TELEPHONE COMPANY PLANS TOLL LINE TO CALHOUN CITY

A. L. Trotman, manager of the local office of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., is authority for the statement that his company plans to begin soon after the first of the new year construction of a toll line to Calhoun City. The completion of this project will greatly improve telephone facilities between these two places and will be welcomed by the general public. As the service now is, in talking between Grenada and Calhoun City, connection have to be made in a roundabout way, the conversation traveling approximately ten times as far as the distance between the two towns.

THE NEW YEAR ALMOST HERE.

Before the next publication day of The Sentinel, the year 1928 will have passed into history, and we shall be counting time by the year 1929. There is something both sad and glad about the going of one year and the incoming of another. To the youth, fortunately, the New Year is bedecked with roses of the brightest hue and he sees nothing but the rainbow of promise and greater and better things. To the older ones, who have walked the hillsides, who have climbed the mountains and who know something of the stubble and pitfalls of life, a new year is considered with more or less seriousness, yet these are predominated with optimism and with that spirit which thinks that the best is still ahead.

The year 1928 has been good to us, to Grenada, to Grenada County and to this broad land of ours. Of course many of us have shared its disappointments; maybe sickness and perhaps sorrow have come to us, yet God reigns and we see above the clouds that He still smiles upon us, and that we are but a part of the great machinery which He is using to accomplish the great purpose He had in the creation of the world and in our own making.

There are things given to man to know but God holds the secrets of the greatest things in His own bosom. But regardless of what 1928 brought to us, we are due to be more thankful to Him for ten thousand innumerable blessings.

Nineteen hundred and twenty-eight has brought the country money; the United States is prospering in material things.

We are living in the clouds and riding shadow and substance, but this is our fault and not God's. He gives us judgment and reasoning powers; He has pled for us to counsel with Him, hence if we stray into forbidden paths, it is our fault and not His.

Thus we come to the threshold of another year. What we do with its opportunities and its blessings depends in a large measure upon how we have used those given us in the year 1928, and what we have tried to garner from the generations that have passed over the river.

The year 1929 is lined with silver. Its very finger tips are gold, and jewels of the rarest splendor are suspended from its every corner. Some of us will see these and some of us will not. If we see them and get that service we are intended to get from them, we must look upward, and think ahead while at the same time keeping in mind the reverent past. We cannot travel the roads of the future unless we have been making marks of hope and warning on the map of what we have already traveled.

The Sentinel parts with 1928 with regret, but extends the glad hand to 1929. It hopes that it may be its best year in all its history and that it may render a better and a more enduring service to Grenada and to the public than ever before.

We wish all our friends—and they are everybody—the best that the New Year has in store.

Let it be hoped that all of us will learn to trust God more. Failure to trust leads us to be distrusted even by our friends, and it is so with God; and how helpless and weak we become when we do not trust Him.

Let us strive to make Grenada a better town in a business way and a more desirable place in which to live in every way. Let us be diligent in all things, slothful in nothing and true at all times.

Just at this moment the thought comes to us, What is Time in its true analysis?

NERVES
Went to Pieces

"I suffered a long time, before I tried Cardui," says Mrs. Lillie Pruitt, 130 "K" St., Anderson, S. C.

"I was badly run-down in health. My nerves 'went to pieces', and I had to go to bed.

"I got so bad off, I could not bear to have anybody walk across the floor of my room. The least little thing upset me. Sometimes I became hysterical. I had bad pains in my back and sides, and my head and limbs would take spells of aching, which almost set me wild.

"One day I saw where a woman, who had a trouble like my own, had been relieved by Cardui. I decided at once to try it. It began to help me from the very first. I took Cardui regularly, for several months, and my improvement was so remarkable my family and friends were delighted."

Try Cardui for your troubles. At all drug stores.

Time from Work

Mr. Albert Garland, of Somerset, Ky., recently said: "I used to work in the mines, but lost quite a bit of time on account of sick spells I had. I would get to having a bad taste in my mouth, and a very dull, tired feeling and ache.

"My mother told me to try Black-Draught, which I did, and after a few doses I felt much better. Now I take it as soon as I feel the least bad, and I don't get down. I certainly can say that it has done more for me than any other medicine I have ever taken.

"I never get without Black-Draught. If I go on a visit, I take a package along in my suitcase. My health is better now than it has been in years."

Black-Draught is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, of highest quality.

Price 25c. Try it.

Where the Bell System's Profit Go

THERE is in effect but one profit paid by the Bell Telephone System. This profit is not large, for it is the policy of the Bell System to furnish a constantly improving telephone service at the least cost to the public.

The treasury of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company receives dividends from the stock of the operating companies. It receives a payment from the operating companies for research, engineering and staff work. It receives dividends from the Western Electric Company---makers of supplies for the Bell System---and income from long distance operations.

Only one profit is taken from this money in the American Telephone and Telegraph Company's treasury. That is the regular dividend to its stockholders---now more than 420,000 in number---which it has never missed paying since its incorporation in 1885.

Money beyond regular dividend requirements and a surplus for financial stability is used to give more and better telephone service to the public. This is fundamental in the policity of the company.

The Bell System accepts its responsibility to provide a nation-wide telephone service as a public trust.
